ROUNDS SHOT

The field was initially set up for an imperial clout (with flags at distances of 180+140+100yd) but, when James arrived with his metric clout measuring ropes, those present decided unanimously to use those instead (without resetting the field).

For what it's worth:

- 140yd = 128.016m > 125m, so the ladies exceeded the minimum distance set out in GNAS rule 707.
- 100yd = 91.440m > 90m, so Dylan also exceeded the minimum distance set out in GNAS rule 707.

On the other hand:

- 180yd = 164.592m < 165m ± 30cm, so the gentlemen shot just slightly short of the minimum distance set out in GNAS rule 707.
